

The Energies of the Transcendent and the End Times

The forces of the transcendent world and other non-human entities have entered human life because the balance of the visible material world has been disrupted. These energies are now with us to help heal humanity from the wounds that resemble the end of the world. The powers of light and shadow have joined together to restore order, for after the “collapse,” every being longs for peace. Even the dark energies can no longer be seen as purely “demonic”: Lucifer becomes a bearer of light — a powerful, experienced entity who realized that continued conflict would lead to universal destruction. He laid down his weapon and chose to stand beside humanity.

The struggle for control of the world, however, continues. We live in an era in which shadowy forces seek to seize leadership — “the hand of the devil” reaches for power. Yet the path toward healing leads through pure intention, wisdom, and human goodness. Inner growth, the expansion of understanding, and an open-hearted attitude are forces capable of restoring balance.

If we turned to God with faith and followed His teachings, we could live happier and healthier lives. Each day we must strive to connect with a higher level of consciousness, where supportive and clear energies surround us. Primitive existence leads to decline, and constant conflict brings destruction. Although the struggle for life cannot be avoided, we must recognize where to draw the line. We must understand who we are and who we may become if we do not stop destructive behavior. Wherever possible, we must make peace so that we can rise to a higher level of development.

The appearance of these energies is therefore both a warning and an opportunity: it signals the loss of balance, yet also shows that destruction can be avoided if different forces learn to cooperate. Inner clarity and conscious choices together can bring about the elevation of humanity.

The new world does not arrive from outside — it is born within us. It becomes reality when we unite the light of understanding with the warmth of the heart, and together raise human existence to a higher level. In this way, transcendent energies bring not destruction but rebirth: a world where peace, wisdom, and harmony prevail.
